CIVIL LITIGATION

We have successfully represented plaintiffs in a broad range of lawsuits. From employment discrimination to medical malpractice, we have obtained favorable settlements and million dollar jury verdicts.

Like everything we do, our approach is to be aggressive from the beginning. We use discovery to our advantage and are never intimidated by the other side. Moreover, we are creative, often seeking novel approaches and causes of actions so that our clients can be appropriately compensated.

In civil cases, we work on a contingency basis. Because we only get paid if our clients win, or reach a settlement, our incentive is to do everything we can to achieve success. If you think you are entitled to just compensation for a civil wrong, call our office today.
